This we know... the earth does not belong to man, man belongs to earth. All things are connected, like the blood which connects one family. Whatever befalls the earth befalls the children of the earth. Man did not weave the web of life — he is merely a strand in it. Whatever he does to the web, he does to himself.

(Wild Connections continued from page 2)

- ◆ Protect 648,300 acres in 53 new Wilderness areas and additions.
 - ◆ Incorporate 14 areas totaling 94,500 acres as Core Reserves.
- Provide wildlife linkages across 203,500 acres and close and rehabilitate unneeded routes.
- Provide balance among multiple uses:
Protect watersheds that replenish the water table and feed municipal water supplies.
- ◆ Ensure that logging, grazing, mining, energy development, and other human-oriented activities are located in suitable areas and will sustain a healthy forest for the indefinite future.
 - ◆ Foster recreation uses that have minimal impact on the natural landscape and wildlife, including 150,500 acres in 20 Quiet Use Areas.
 - ◆ Focus vehicle-oriented recreation on designated roads and trails and intensive recreation at special motorized and ski sites.
- Provide for developed campgrounds, dispersed camping, opportunities for wildlife watching, fishing, and river and lake recreation.
- Underlying all our work is the conviction that wild landscapes sustains the human spirit and provide for all our fellow creatures in an interconnected, interrelated whole.
